Watch FHIA's Neighborhood Video Update

Introducing the first neighborhood video update for the First Hill neighborhood!

Please note that this was filmed on November 6th, before Governor Inslee ordered new restrictions due to COVID-19. The Frye Art Museum has since restricted visitors again.

A special thanks to the City of Seattle's Office of Economic Development for helping make this video possible.

Think First Hill First!

Despite the uncertainty surrounding the COVID-19 outbreak, many of our neighborhood businesses remain open, with some operating at reduced schedules. Indoor dining is currently not allowed, but take-out is. In previous community newsletters, we have provided a list. Our website now provides a list that is updated weekly with the latest information about open businesses in the neighborhood. You can find that list on our website here.

First Hill Scavenger Hunt – Round 18

The rules are quite simple. The next time you go outside for a walk, keep your eyes peeled for painted rocks in the neighborhood. When you find a painted rock, pick it up and take it with you. Each painted rock has a number associated with it. Then, email doug@firsthill.org and include the rock number in the email and we can coordinate how to get your prize to you.

The prizes are gift cards to various local, neighborhood businesses impacted by the pandemic. The prizes are guaranteed to be worth your time, so tell all your friends and neighbors! We've already had 38 winners so far, but there are plenty more out there to find! New painted rocks will be hidden every week.

The First Hill Improvement Association would like to thank our partners at the Office of Economic Development's Only in Seattle Grant for helping make this possible.

The First Hill Scavenger Hunt will end when the prizes run out. Get to it!
